After setting your password, you'll be automatically redirected to the login page for your SMRT instance. Log in using your new username and password.

Your new SMRT instance will be in “Onboarding Mode”. You will only have the capability to set up new Stripe account(s) while in this mode. Click the +New button in the upper right corner of your browser.

Type in the desired name of the merchant account. You can set this to whatever you would like it to be. If creating more than one Stripe account, remember to use a fitting name in order to keep them straight. You can easily change this name later.
